You have more in you. Let's find IT, together.

Co-author, Own Your IT: Want IT Work IT Win IT

Cedric Clark is a father of four and a retail leadership executive who most recently served as EVP of Store Operations at Walmart US Stores, responsible for more than 1.3 million associates. He started on the sales floor. He is known for developing people, building high-performing teams, and helping others see the internal talent (IT) already inside them. His message is grounded in faith, discipline and consistency, and rests on one belief: true impact starts from within.

SIGNATURE TALKS

1 Own Your IT: Want IT, Work IT, Win IT

Leaders who are talented but stuck learn a three-part rhythm for turning desire into discipline and discipline into lasting impact.

2 The Inside Job

The real battle is internal, and the Decide, Discover, Develop, Display and Defend path turns clarity into courage.

3 Not Alone: Why Growth Was Never Meant to Be Solo

Teams and leaders learn to use perspective, accountability and alignment so nobody stays trapped as their own ceiling.

4 After the Applause: Winning That Lasts

One win proves something happened. This talk shows how to stay aligned afterward and turn success into something you share.
